

MANUAL WORK EXHIBITION

AT PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION LAST WEEK.

Illustrating the Value and Results of the Good Work of the Association.

At the meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association on last Friday, an exhibition was made of the work of the schools, illustrating in a most effective way the results of the work of this association to the town, the value of the work and calling for the encouragement of every citizen interested in the welfare of the boys and girls of the town and the schools.

This exhibition consisted of a display of the finished work of the manual training department, consisting of a Morris chair, made by Albert Menchey, book racks, stools, hat racks, and other articles in wood. Then there was an excellent display of the basketry work, and needle work and a large display of the art work. When the Parent-Teachers' work was started about three years ago not a single piece of work of the kind had been done by the school children of the town. Now along with their studies and without any loss in hours devoted to the books has come this development. And with what result? Every teacher in the High School reports better scholars in the scholastic department.

The work of the hands has caught the attention of the children, the creation of things has aroused their interest. The school has not been a place to escape from but to which they are attracted and the patience, thoroughness, diligence, and order with which they are required to go at the creation of things develops like qualities during the periods devoted to the education derived from books and with the inevitable result that better scholars are developed. Parents have noted this development in their children and have given enthusiastic support to the work of encouragement through the Parent-Teachers' Association. In fact Gettysburg has at the present time a school spirit, entertained by scholars, teachers and the people of the town such as it has never had in its whole history.

The magnificent gift of Mr. Kurtz of the playground park has added greatly to this spirit. The boys, little and big, have been using the grounds for some weeks in baseball practice, and with the development of the park and the encouragement of a Domestic Science Department and other work of the Parent-Teachers Association in the future, a new school era is dawning for this town.

One of the sights at the High School building last Friday evening was a potter's wheel which Charles Speece, a school director, had rigged up and he has given several demonstrations of the work to pupils, showing how different articles are made with the help of the wheel. It is hoped that this may lead to a branch of manual training work of modeling in clay.

Several hundred of the citizens of the town were at the meeting Friday evening. Mrs. Wm. Arch. McClean, president. The program opened with a piano solo by Miss Reba Miller, recitations by Miss Caroline Bream, and singing by a quartet, Mrs. R. E. Zinn, Miss Daisy Wentz, R. E. Zinn and Joseph Sterner, and this musical program was followed by most interesting short talks.

Miss Helen Cope spoke of the work of the teachers during the summer months, attendance at summer schools, acquiring new knowledge, enthusiasm and inspiration to give to this work for the child. The summer work made better teachers and it was all done for the good of the children of the town. The need of the teacher was the encouragement of the parenthood of the town towards this work of the teachers.

Prof. Walter R. Reynolds of the High School spoke on the subject of "High School Athletics." After telling of the important help of athletics in the work of the schools and that the past year had been a very creditable one as far as victories had been, the football team winning three out of five games and the basketball team the first game of the season. Speaking of the big meet at State College on May 2 he declared that he had not been able to find enough boys free from the cigarette habit from which to pick a competing track team. He declared that the cigarette habit was interfering with the development of athletes in the High School. That it was everywhere recognized as an essential to good hard work in any kind of athletics that the boy should not have the habit. The declaration of Prof. Reynolds was startling to many and in an interview he stated that he feared that fully seventy-five per cent. of the High School boys indulged in cigarette smoking. This condition was called to the attention of the association in order that some plan might be inaugurated for the lessening of this evil. It is certainly one of the most remarkable developments of this American civilization that the cigarette is tolerated in the face of the verdict of scientists and physicians that the habit is followed after years of indulgence with physical and mental deterioration. There are now a number of avenues of industry which are deluged to the cigarette smoker or its indulgence will bring discharge.

was by Prof. C. F. Sanders on "What More Can We do for the Children?" Referring to the cigarette habit he said he believed boys were good but all children were imitative and that what the elder ones in the community were doing they came to believe they should do. If the adults of the town threw away their cigarettes it would be one big step to diminish the habit among the boys. He called attention to the opportunity ahead for the children of the town in the music department of the Summer School, with a teacher who has accomplished wonders in other communities. He also told of the opportunities for the children afforded by the Chautauqua which had prepared a junior chautauqua course for children each morning which would be free to each child buying a $1.00 ticket for the afternoon and evening chautauqua.

At the conclusion of the program the business session of the association was held, ending in the voting contest for the banner, "Home and School," going to Miss Lizzie Rummel's school for the largest number of parents present at meeting.

Being the last meeting of the association for the school year, a committee of members served the audience with refreshments of ice cream and cake. The association adjourned until Sept. unless the playground park developments would make necessary a special meeting during the summer.

Poultry, Apple and Corn Show.

The Board of Managers of the Biglerville Agricultural, Horticultural and Poultry Association held a meeting on Tuesday of last week and decided to hold the next poultry, apple and corn show on Dec. 31, 1913, Jan. 1, 2 and 3, 1914. The show will be held in the new building being erected by U. S. Klinefelter for storage purposes. The association is composed of a membership of 104, each of whom have paid a fee of $19. The association has been chartered and is governed by 17 directors. Vice President C. J. Tyson being chairman of fruit exhibit, Vice President Edwin A. Rice chairman of agricultural department, and D. C. Jacobs chairman of poultry department. Valuable cash prizes will be offered and State aid will be sought to make the show a success.

Resolutions Adopted by D. A. R.

At the April meeting of the Gettysburg Chapter No. S. D. A. R. the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, We the Gettysburg Chapter "D. A. R." have been organized primarily for the promotion of a high order of patriotism, and

Whereas, A good citizen is a good patriot, and good citizenship is maintained by anything which is subversive of morality, therefore be it

Resolved, That we do unreservedly condemn the lascivious dances known as the Bear, the Bunny Hug, the Turkey Trot, and other dances of a similar nature and do pledge ourselves to use all means in our power to prevent their exercise.

The Time of Marrying.

HULL—WARTHEN.—A pretty home wedding took place on Tuesday of last week at the home of the bride in Highland township, when Miss Carrie Belle Warthen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warthen, and Walter Preston Hull, of the Gettysburg Post-office force, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hull of near Fairfield, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. Hentzell, pastor of both bride and groom. The wedding party entered the parlor decorated with pine and roses, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Mrs. Clara Spangler. The bridesmaid, Miss Esther Lantz, of Chambersburg, led the way with Harry Warthen, brother of the bride, as best man. They were followed by little flower girls, Misses Kathryn Truand and Marguerite Mill of Frederick. Then came the bride and groom. The bride wore a gown of ivory white messaline trimmed with lace and rose buds and carried a bouquet of brides roses. The bridesmaid wore a gown of white messaline trimmed in chiffon and pink rosebuds and carried pink and white carnations. The little flower girls wore dainty pink dresses. After the ring ceremony a reception was held, the guests being received by three pupils of the bride, Misses Genevieve Spangler, Margaret Royer and Mary Stultz. The bride and groom are well known throughout the county, having been successful teachers for a number of years. The wedding trip was to Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia. They will reside in Gettysburg.

Weaver of McSherrystown, were married Sunday evening, April 6, in St. Mary's rectory, McSherrystown, by Rev. L. Aug. Reindler. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Young, of McSherrystown. After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, when congratulations were extended by relatives and Sternat, the bridegroom's pastor. The bridegroom is at present taking a course of study at the York County Academy. He formerly attended the Millersville State Normal School. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Leib, and the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Myers. For the present they will reside at the latter's parents' Spring Grove.

TOPPER—SULLIVAN.—A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized April 3 at Corpus Christi Church, Baltimore, when Miss Rose C. Sullivan, daughter of Mrs. Rose A. Sullivan, of Baltimore, became the bride of Mr. Joseph I. Topper, son of J. Frank Topper of Emmitsburg. The bride was attired in a blue traveling suit with hat to match and corsage bouquet of white sweet peas. The bride was attended by her friend Miss Agnes O'Brien who was attired in a lavender suit with hat to match and corsage bouquet of lavender sweet peas. The groom's best man was Robert Lee Kieley. Immediately after the ceremony the newly married couple left for Atlantic City where they spent their honeymoon. On the following Monday a reception was held in their honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Topper, Emmitsburg.

W. C. T. U. Institute.

The local institute held by the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Adams County in the Methodist Church, on last Friday morning and afternoon, was profitable and entertaining to all present. The purpose of the meeting was to consider methods of work in the different departments. Five churches, including the Friends' Society of Sunnyside, were represented, but the bad weather prevented general attendance through the county. An interesting account of evangelistic and prison work was given by Mrs. Anna Lake, Superintendent of that department. She made a request for singing books containing well-known hymns, which was responded to by a promise of supply from the two Gettysburg Unions.

The Department of Flower Missions considered work at the Almshouse. Memorial Day among the soldiers and railroads, besides, books, flowers, dainties, help of any kind individually or through the linen loan for the sick and needy. The work of the civic nurse in this connection was highly commended.

Other departments represented were Mothers' Meetings, The Press, Temperance Lessons in the Sunday School, and Medal Contests. This latter was presented by a student of the Seminary, Pres. of the Band of Hope.

The difficulty in finding a place of meeting for the Band hereafter was deplored, and it was hoped the Parent-Teachers' Association might be interested to help, as the churches do not seem to be eligible any longer.

A contest to be held in Brua Chapel Friday, 18th, ten cents admission, the money to be used for a picnic for the children at the close of the session for the summer.

A parliamentary drill by ten or twelve ladies, finished the program, and proved to be amusing as well as instructive.

On the whole it was a satisfactory occasion and we hope may become an annual feature of the W. C. T. U. in this county.

Odd Fellow Degree Work.

Gettysburg and Greencastle Lodges of Odd Fellows had large representations at the meeting of Columbus Lodge of Chambersburg, last Friday evening, when the Friendship degree was given. A number of other lodges were represented. Nine candidates were given the degree.

Following the regular work of the order short addresses were made by visitors of Gettys Lodge, No. 121, and Greencastle Lodge, 228. The star speaker of the evening was Dr. Billheimer, a member of the faculty of the Lutheran Seminary, Gettysburg, who in eloquent words gave high praise to the work of the team of Columbus Lodge and Oddfellowship in general. Through Dr. Billheimer and a committee from Gettys Lodge, an invitation was extended to the team to visit Gettysburg during the meeting of the Grand Lodge and confer the degree of Friendship before that body. Captain Paxton, after conferring with his members, accepted the invitation.

The Gettysburg visitors, who went there in autos, were: W. J. Eden, F. Mark Bream, Harry Califf, W. M. Conover, J. E. Snyder, John Hewitt, Ralph Wiernan, R. H. Buskman, D. S. Coleman, C. K. Gilbert, M. A. Miller, E. E.

Celebration News.

The orders for preparations for the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg seem to have one distinct meaning, Get Busy. That was the word sent to the Legislature last week and on Tuesday the House took up out of order the appropriation bills for the celebration, passed them and sent them to the Senate. The Senate immediately reported them from committee and passed them of first reading and advanced them to third reading on Wednesday. They were made special order for Monday evening, April 14, and as soon as passed and ready for signing will have Governor Tener's signature.

Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, State Commissioner of Health, with F. Herbert Snow, Chief Sanitary Engineer of the department and Major John C. Groome in command of the State Constabulary, with Col. Lewis E. Reider, Secretary of the Commission, visited Gettysburg yesterday (Tuesday). The en-

A part of the work of Dr. Dixon will be to prepare an emergency hospital in the town. Public comfort stations will be established in and about the town and it is probable that public drinking fountains may also be erected for the occasion.

In view of the passage of the appropriation bills a meeting of the Commission has been called for next Friday at their rooms in Capitol Building, Harrisburg, and the expected orders are "Get Busy" with every detail of the arrangements.

Hundreds of applications for transportation are being received at Harrisburg and being listed. Official papers showing service are required for identification of veterans.

Two of the four artesian wells being drilled under contract with the United States Government are practically finished, one at a depth of 350 feet, the other 500 feet and both pumping 100 gallons a minute each of what has been analyzed as pure water. The four wells will give a daily capacity of over a half million gallons and with the town supply of 1,000,000 gallons daily, there will be plenty of good wholesome water in sight for the occasion.

Loses Money—Then Recovers It.

Booze resulted in giving quite an amount of notoriety to an affair in Hanover involving an Adams County man. Henry Keagy of Conowago township, near McSherrystown, known as the "Squab man," went to Hanover on Saturday, March 29. He had a purse with him containing $268. He became intoxicated and was seen lying in alley in rear of Hotel O'Boyd drunk. He was taken into the stable. He remembered spending 10 of his pile and when he was sober he discovered all his money had disappeared. Last week on oath of Henry Keagy a warrant issued for Ivan Koehler of Berwick township charging him with larceny of $258 from Keagy, while intoxicated. Koehler was given a hearing and entered bail for his appearance at April Quarter Sessions of York County. Last Thursday morning the rural carrier arrived at box in front of the Keagy residence along the Oxford road and finding a long thick envelope without a stamp in box addressed to Mr. Keagy he called to the latter, who breaking open the letter to his utter amazement found in the envelope $241. He was able to identify money as part of his original wad. How the money got in the box is an unsolved mystery. It is said the return of money may not effect the legal status of the case against Koehler, which was however entirely circumstantial.

Dissolved Attachment.

An interesting hearing was held by Judge S. McC. Swope on last Wednesday and Thursday. A Baltimore and a New York attorney assisted local counsel and there were many sharp passes between counsel.

The case was between Samuel Waldman, a Corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of New York vs. Herbert Levy, Harry Levy trading as the Bendersville Bargain House. An attachment had been issued seizing all the goods in the Bendersville Store, under what is known as the fraudulent debtors act. It was alleged that Herbert Levy operating the Baltimore Mail Order House had gone to New York, purchased several thousand dollars worth of goods and the goods had been shipped to Baltimore. The goods of Harry Levy in Bendersville were said to be worth about $2500 but only about $600 worth of the goods had been bought of Herbert Levy. Herbert and Harry Levy are brothers and it was sought to make allegations of fraud sufficient to hold the goods. A number of witnesses were heard by the Court on the motion to dissolve the attachment. Israel F. Gomborow, a Baltimore Attorney assisted Wm. Hersb. Esq. and C. L. Froek, a New York Attorney assisted Mr. Duncan. There was an interesting display of Yiddish at times during the hearing and arguments were presented to Court for and against motion to dissolve. At the conclusion of two days hearing Judge Swope made a decree dissolving the attachment freeing the property of Harry Levy so he could open his Bendersville Store.

Sale of H. B. Bender for 15th has been postponed until Saturday, April 19 at one o'clock.

ARENDTSTVILLE.

Last Sunday was an unusual cold April day with frequent snow storms. Harry N. Trostle has the mechanics at work adding another two-story back building to his house.

Those from the county that moved to our town last week were Harry Funt, John Jacobs, Wm. H. Lady, Milton Jacobs and County Commissioner Noah R. Beemer; the crowd at his flitting reminded one of a small public sale, about sixty persons partook of the big flitting dinner.

Geo. Beck's flitting was also largely attended with quite a large lot of invited friends to the flitting dinner.

Prof. Roy D. Knouss who taught the high school in this place last winter, has gone to Shippensburg where he will teach in the normal school.

Mrs. Laura Pettis spent several days in Philadelphia last week.

Mrs. Dorsey Lower was a visitor among friends in Harrisburg last Friday.

Rev. Ira Trostle with his wife and their two children of Dillsburg, and Mrs. Francis C. Knouss of Bethlehem, are visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Trostle.

Rev. Emory Stockslager, his wife and their two children, spent several days last week in the homes of Rev. D. T. Koser and Mrs. Harry Little.

Judge Beaver Stricken.

The many friends of Judge James A. Beaver, of the Superior Court, heard with much regret in the past few days that the veteran soldier, former Governor and jurist had sustained a stroke of paralysis at his home in Bellefonte on the morning of Saturday, March 22. His advanced age and recent illness may militate against the recovery of the distinguished Pennsylvanian, but there is some hope of improvement. When the Superior Court met at Harrisburg a short time ago General Beaver was absent, but it was explained that he was suffering from a severe attack of grip, that had confined him to his home for some time. His condition at the time was regarded as very feeble, and the sustaining of a paralytic stroke may be attended by the severest consequences. It will be sad news to those who honor and revere the gallant gentleman.

GERMANY TOWNSHIP.

Miss Pauline Eckenrode, of Baltimore is spending a two weeks' vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Eckenrode.

OVERLANDTwo Automobile Catechisms--Free

HERE are the first real automobile catechisms ever published. They are just what the title signifies---books on elementary automobile principles. These books are not the average run of dry technical matter. They were written by an automobile authority who not only understands the automobile, but, what is more important, understands and can make clear to you the very things that seem confusing, complex and intricate.

Purchasing Advice

The first book informs you on values; how to measure and judge cars. Explanations are clear, logical and convincing.

For instance—you must know which rear axle construction is best; for the finest motor made is helpless with an inefficient rear system. Then you should know whether that motor is full powered; an under-powered car is a fatal buy no matter how excellent the materials. You must go into brake construction and spring suspension; ascertain where drop forgings are imperative—and get information on dozens of other vital points.

This book explains production economies. For example: The expense of a certain new tool equipment amounting to $100,000 means $20 per car to the manufacturer of 5,000 cars. But as we produce 40,000 cars a year it means only $2.50 per car. Thus the advantages, results and economies of manufacturing cars in great quantities are explained. When you have finished reading this book you will understand why we can market a completely equipped, 30 horsepower, five-passenger touring car for $985. The duplicate of this car cannot be had from any other manufacturer for less than $1200.

Operating Advice

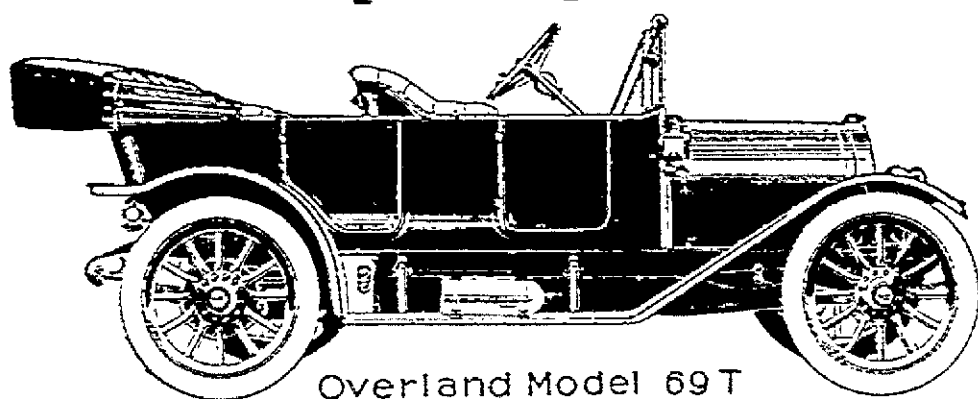

The little gray covered book teaches you the knacks of good driving. Every thing is explained in simple, understandable language. It is not one bit technical. Your wife—even the young people of the family—will find it very interesting reading. It will aid the most experienced motorist.

Here are some of the chapters: "How to Start the Motor", "How to Start the Car", "The Best Way to Turn Corners", "Rules of the Road", "How to Find a Missing Cylinder", "Tire Care", etc. Each point, from starting to stopping, is covered, and covered thoroughly. It even describes the best methods for washing and polishing; it tells how to overcome a car's tendency to skid.

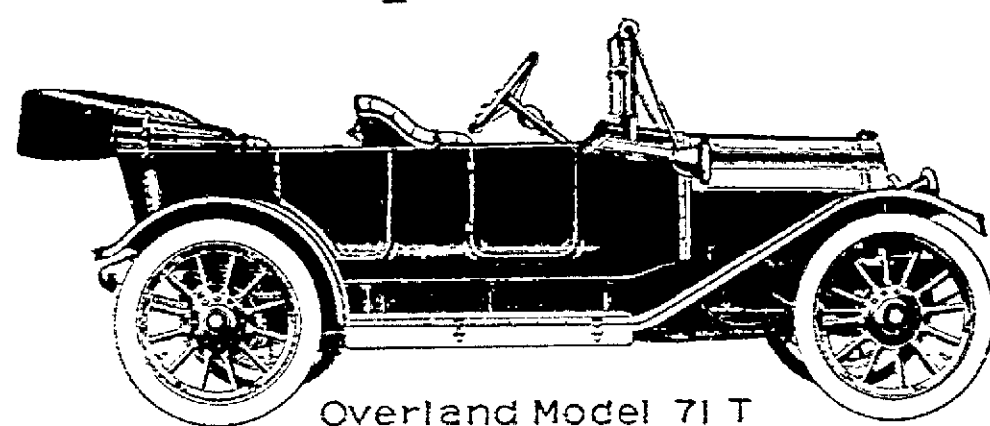

Had this book been issued by a publisher as a money maker, it would cost you several dollars. There are nearly 100 pages in it and scarcely one lacks a diagram. There are about 175 drawings in all. One is of double page size, illustrating most clearly the means of proper lubrication.

It does not matter if you have not yet bought your automobile. Get this book; it will pay a dividend of knowledge.

We are giving this book away merely because we want you to know the difference between good and bad automobiles. After you have read it you will be impressed with what a fine, big, practical and useful car the Overland is.

Why Women Are Not RICH.

Man is a millionaire many times over in the possession of blood cells. Woman is not quite so rich, for scientists have proven that the normal man has five million—the woman only four and a half million to a cubic millimetre of blood.

A decrease in number of red blood corpuscles and a person "looks pale"—in fact, is anemic, the blood does not get the right food and probably the stomach is disordered.

Dr. R. V. Pierce found years ago that a glyceric extract of golden seal and Oregon grape roots, queen's root and bloodroot with black cherrybark, would help the assimilation of the food in the stomach, correct liver ills and in Nature's own way increase the red blood corpuscles. This medicine he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By assimilating the food eaten the system is nourished and the blood takes on a rich red color. Nervousness is only "the cry of the starved nerves for food," and when the nerves are fed on rich red blood the person loses those irritable feelings, sleeps well at night and is refreshed in the morning.

"I was attacked with a severe nervous disease, which was caused by a disordered stomach and liver," writes Mr. Jas. D. Lively of Washington, Tenn., Route 2, Box 83. "All my friends thought I would die and the best physicians gave me up. I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and derived much benefit from same. My case had run so long, it had become so chronic that nothing would effect a permanent cure, but Dr. Pierce's medicine has done much for me and I heartily recommend it. I heartily advise its use as a spring tonic, and further advise ailing people to take Dr. Pierce's medicines before their diseases have run so long that there is no chance to be cured."

WILSON'S FIRST MESSAGE

DELIVERED IN PERSON BEFORE CONGRESS AT OPENING

A Dignified Democratic Way Drop—pel for 100 Years Followed by Washington and Adams.

I am very glad indeed to have this opportunity to address the two houses directly and to verify for myself the impression that the President of the United States is a person, not a mere representative of the government, hailing Congress from some isolated stand of jealous power, sending messages, not speaking naturally and with his own voice,—that he is a human being trying to co-operate with other human beings in a common service. After this pleasant experience, I shall feel quite normal in all our dealings with one another.

I have called the Congress together in extraordinary session because a duty was laid upon the party now in power at the recent elections which it ought to perform promptly, in order that the burden carried by the people under existing law may be lightened as soon as possible and in order, also, that the business interests of the country may not be kept too long in suspense as to what the fiscal changes are to be to which they will be required to adjust themselves. It is clear to the whole country that the tariff duties must be altered. They must be changed to meet the radical alteration in the conditions of our economic life which the country has witnessed within the last generation.

While the whole face and method of our industrial and commercial life were being changed beyond recognition the tariff schedules have remained what they were before the change began, or have moved in the direction they were given when no large circumstance of our industrial development was what it is today. Our task is to square them with the actual facts. The sooner that is done the sooner we shall escape from suffering from the facts and the sooner our men of business will be free to thrive by the law of nature (the nature of free business) instead of by the law of legislation and artificial arrangement.

We have seen tariff legislation wander very far afield in our day—very far indeed from the field in which our prosperity might have had a normal growth and stimulation. No one who looks the facts squarely in the face or knows anything that lies beneath the surface of action can fail to perceive the principles upon which recent tariff legislation has been based. We long ago passed beyond the modest notion of "protecting" the industries of the country and moved boldly forward to the idea that they were entitled to the direct patronage of the government.

For a long time—a time so long that the men now active in public policy hardly remember the conditions that preceded it—we have sought in our tariff schedules to give each group of manufacturers or producers what they themselves thought that they needed in order to maintain a practically exclusive market as against the rest of the world.

Consciously or unconsciously, we have built up a set of privileges and exemptions from competition behind which it was easy by any, even the crudest, forms of combination to organize monopoly: until at last nothing is normal, nothing is obliged to stand the tests of efficiency and economy, in our world of big business, but everything thrives by concerted arrangement. Only new principles of action will save us from a final hard crystallization of monopoly and a complete loss of the influences that quicken enterprise and keep independent energy alive.

It is plain what those principles must be. We must abolish everything that bears even the semblance of privilege or of any kind of artificial advantage, and put our business men and producers under the stimulation of a constant necessity to be efficient, economical and enterprising, masters of competitive supremacy, better workers and merchants than any in the world. Aside from the duties laid upon articles which we do not, and probably can not, produce, therefore, and the duties laid upon luxuries and merely for the sake of the revenues they yield, the object of the tariff duties henceforth laid must be effective competition, the whetting of American wits by contest with the wits of the rest of the world.

It would be unwise to move toward this end headlong, with reckless haste, or with strokes that cut at the very roots of what has grown up amongst us by long process and at our own invitation. It does not alter a thing to upset it and break it and deprive it of a chance to change. It destroys it. We must make changes in our fiscal laws, in our fiscal system, whose object is development a more free and wholesome development, not revolution or upset or confusion. We must build up trade, especially foreign trade. We need the outlet and the enlarged field of energy more than we ever did before. We must build up industry as well, and must adopt freedom in the place of artificial stimulation only so far as it will build, not pull down.

In dealing with the tariff the method by which this may be done will be a matter of judgment, exercised item by item. To some not accustomed to the excitement and responsibilities of greater freedom our methods may in some respects and at some points seem heroic, but remedies may be heroic and yet be remedies. It is our business to make sure that they are genuine remedies. Our object is clear. If our motive is above just challenge and only an occasional error of judgment is chargeable against us, we shall be fortunate.

We are called upon to render the country a great service in more matters than one. Our responsibility should be met, and our methods should be thorough, as thorough as moderate and well considered, based upon the facts as they are, and not worked out as if we were beginners.

We are to deal with the facts of our own day with the facts of no other, and to make laws which square with those facts. It is best, indeed, it is necessary, to begin with the tariff. It will urge nothing upon you now at the opening of your session which can obscure that first object or divert our energies from that clearly defined duty.

At a later time I may take the liberty of calling your attention to reforms which should press close upon the heels of the tariff changes, if not accompanying them of which the chief is the reform of our banking and currency laws; but just now I refrain. For the present I put these matters on one side and think only of this one thing—of the changes, in our fiscal system which may best serve to open once more the free channel of prosperity to a great people whom we would serve to the utmost and throughout both rank and file.

To Make a Tree Grow.

Professor H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, Harrisburg, Pa., who has planted more trees than any other person in the State of Pennsylvania, and has had remarkable success with their growing, gives the following plain and detailed directions for making trees grow: In consideration of the approaching Arbor Days, April 11th and 25th, which have been set by Governor Tener in this State, they will be found especially timely and helpful.

"Replying to your inquiries as to how to plant a tree correctly, I can say first you should have a vigorous young tree, to start growth well. I prefer one-year-old trees in the fruit line, and certainly nothing older than three-year-old trees, even for shade purposes. The top should be pruned back considerably at the time of planting. The long or broken roots should be pruned off, leaving the stubs not more than six inches in length. The roots should be kept damp from the time the tree is removed from the ground until the transplanting is completed. To do this it is a good plan to plunge them into a vessel of mud, so as to puddle or cover them with mud, or cover them with a damp cloth to keep sun and wind from them before planting.

"Dig a hole two or three feet across. Make it deep enough that some good top ground can be put in the bottom of the hole and the tree stand on this, and be not more than three inches lower than it formerly grew. If you come to rocks or poor soil or clay remove these, so the hole can be properly deepened. Fill it with good earth tramped in firmly, so that the tree will stand on this and be firm after the planting is completed. Spread the roots in different directions incline the tree five or ten degrees toward the prevailing wind, if it is in a region where the wind will strike it with force. Be sure that it will not be planted more than three inches deeper than it formerly grew. Less than this is generally sufficient.

"Again, if there are places beneath the roots where these do not touch the soil, work good earth under them with the hands. Then put good soil over the roots to a depth of about two or three inches. Use no manure or fertilizer in contact with the roots. Tramp this earth as firmly as can be done with the feet. Success in making a tree grow depends upon this firm tramping with good soil that is not wet enough to cake or become hard, and also not too dry.

"After this fill in the hole with good top earth, not using red clay nor stones. It is all right to put stones over the top of the ground after the planting is completed, filling to about the level of the ground, but do not tramp it again, and do not use water at any time, unless it be after the final refilling. If water is used be careful not to tramp or pack it in the least after it is wet."

Legislative Down at Harrisburg.

It seems to be the evident purpose of the Republicans to attempt to repair the machine with the road bond issue. The Democrats and others standing for a square deal for all the people instead of for the machine, can block the legislative program by compelling Governor Tener to sign the Humes bill for division of bond issue to each county before passing the bond issue constitutional amendment, and by passage of the Benson bill for just and equal taxation. Those in favor of the square deal seemed to have a big majority in the House last week.

That the road bond issue was to repair the machine was tacitly admitted on the floor of the House last week by no less a personage than Representative Richard J. Baldwin, floor leader of the machine forces. Baldwin declared that the bill introduced by Democratic floor leader, E. Lowry Humes to safeguard the interests of all the counties in the distribution of the $50,000,000 to be raised if the bond issue carries, would "hamstring the administration." Accepting Mr. Baldwin at his word, therefore, it may be assumed that it is not the purpose of the administration to expend that $50,000,000 with equal and exact justice to every portion of the State, but to place the money where it will do the most good in strengthening and perpetuating the machine.

The Humes bill, which the gangsters fought tooth and nail, was passed by the House despite the frantic opposition of the administration, by a vote of 132 to 52. Practically the entire Democratic strength and the votes of most of the independents of the other parties went to the support of the Humes bill.

The measurer requires the State Highway Commissioner, immediately after any money is appropriated, to apportion the amounts to each county in the proportion which the unimproved highways of each bears to the total mileage of the State highways. The machine, therefore, would no longer be able to use the distribution of highway money as clues over senators and House members whom it seeks to coerce, or over entire counties where it seeks to influence political activity. Nor would it be able to throw money into counties for the benefit of favored contractors while other counties failed to get their share of roads. Likewise it could no longer build a costly highway between a lieutenant governor's residence and his railroad station while neighboring roads were neglected. Is it any wonder that Machine Leader Baldwin tearfully declared that the passage of the bill would "hamstring the administration?"

The House evidently enjoyed its first hamstringing experience for the following day it proceeded to evoke further fury from Machine Leader Baldwin by slapping back the constitutional amendment resolution into the public roads committee. All the tears, entreaties and threats of Brother Baldwin and other leaders of the machine forces failed to prevail over the conviction of a majority of the House that the resolution should stay in the committee until the Senate has passed and the Governor has signed the Humes bill regulating the expenditure of the $50,000,000.

Governor Tener has given evidence of exceeding wrath over this obstinacy of the House, and it is evident that every possible pressure will be brought upon members the least amenable to administration influence to be good and let the machine have this $50,000,000 to use as it sees fit. It will be well enough for the "folks back home" who want to see something accomplished other than the rehabilitation of a busted machine as a result of the expenditure of this money, to stiffen the backbones of their members by urging their continued support of the Humes measure and uncompromising opposition to every scheme to give the unrestricted expenditure of this vast sum to the "discretion" of the Highway Department.

That the $50,000,000 bond issue contemplated by the constitutional amendment is only the beginning of the expenditures which it is proposed to make through Bigelow's highway department, if the Machine has its way, has become known lately. At present there are 8,000 miles of highway subject to construction and maintenance under the loan and specified in the so-called Sproul road bill of the 1911 session. Two thousand miles more are likely to be added by the present session. These 10,000 miles of road, if constructed at the same cost as those already constructed out of the current funds, would cost not less than $200,000,000, including the so-called overhead charge, that is, the necessary increase in the operating expenses of the new department.

Nor is this stupendous amount to be considered the extreme limit. Each succeeding session of the legislature may be expected to increase rather than decrease the demand for further highways in all parts of the State, with no end in sight for the constant drain of money to pay interest and sinking fund on this immense and constantly increasing debt.

Who pays for all this? Not the telegraph and telephone companies, not the street car lines or steam railways, not the money lenders nor the investors in Wall Street stocks. Oh no! Under the beautiful system of taxation in Pennsylvania, the farmer, the workman, the modest stockholder, the widow and orphan will have to build and maintain these roads—unless the Benson bill becomes a law.

The bill of Representative E. R. Benson of McKean county, would change the unjust system whereby the great mass of citizens pay an average of twenty mills on the dollar to sustain the State government while the corporations and holders of personal property—stocks, bonds, mortgages, etc.—pay an average of less than five mills on the dollar of assessed valuation. Under the Benson bill the farmers and wage earners would get the justice that has been denied them under years of Republican misrule and the corporations, money lenders and investors would be required to pay exactly the same rate of tax upon their property as their less wealthy and fortunate fellow taxpayers. There is nothing revolutionary or visionary about the Benson bill. It is no more theory or untried experiment. It is based upon the splendid tax law in-

It would place Pennsylvania upon an equal basis in the matter of taxation with its nearest State neighbors and put an end to an outrageous and fraudulent system of favoritism in taxation that has made this State an object of derision among her sister Commonwealths, and has so handicapped and discouraged the agricultural interests of the State that the last census shows an alarming decrease of population throughout the rural counties. The machine is fighting to prevent the Benson bill being reported back to the House for action.

Open Air Schools for Children.

Open air schools are being established throughout the country by the scores in order to bring anemic and sickly children back to health. If open air makes delicate children strong, why not use it in order to keep healthy children well? The value of "fresh air for children in normal health is illustrated by an experiment that has been recently conducted in one of the Philadelphia public schools.

From September 30th to the last day in December forty-four children of average health and intelligence were taught in an unheated, open window schoolroom. They were weighed every week and were under medical supervision. The windows were never closed. The children wore extra clothing. At the end of twelve weeks the children in the open air school had each on an average gained two pounds in weight as over against an average gain of one pound in weight in a class of forty-four children of similar age who had been taught in the ordinary closed school room. In an examination in school work, the open air children bested the children in the ordinary schoolroom.

This is only one example of what is being proved everywhere in the United States. Open air develops healthy children. Moreover contagious diseases do not spread as readily in an open air room as in a closed room. Why not give all children the benefit of open air schoolrooms?—Karl de Schweinitz, Executive Secretary, Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis.

Prosperous Cigar Business.

Deputy Internal Revenue Collector Adam F. Strayer states that March, 1913, would go down into history as one of the biggest months regarding the sale of internal revenue stamps ever recorded in the York office of the Ninth Internal Revenue district. The receipts for the month were $95,212.85, which is $1,953.09 more than in February.

That the cigar and tobacco trade in this section of the district is in more prosperous condition this spring than a year ago is shown by the fact that in March, 1912, the receipts at the York office were $86,542.86, which is an increase for March, 1913, of $11,670.45.

The revenue office officials say that cigar manufacturers report that business is still prosperous and that there is every indication of a brisk spring trade. Some of the smaller manufacturers say that there is not the snap to the trade that there was a month or so ago, but there is no reason to complain, as almost every manufacturer has more orders on hand at present than were booked a year ago. Most of the larger factories in York and vicinity have standing orders on hand and are running to full capacity. In fact, several firms have more orders booked than they can fill with their present force of cigar makers and they have been forced to advertise in the newspapers for additional help.

PROPOSED TARIFF REVISION

DOWNWARD REVISION BILL IS
IN HANDS OF CONGRESSRedemption of Platform Pledges—Lower Cost of Living from Cheaper Food

The tariff bill introduced in Congress to redeem Democratic pledges of a downward revision, and lower Underwood in the House. Food and cost of living is in charge of Oscar special interests receive the proposed cut of $50,000,000 and the income law under the new constitutional law is estimated to realize as large a sum as the reduction. Among other things the proposed bill makes following changes:

Protection to the farmer would be cut throughout by more than 50 per cent. in an effort to reduce the cost of food, and with heavy cuts in farm machinery, clothing, sugar and all his supplies, the farmer will be far ahead in the adjusting.

Protection to the steel and implement manufacturer would in turn be cut by fully as wide a margin.

Heaviest reductions fall upon food-stuffs, agricultural products, woolen and cotton clothing.

Sugar would be free of duty in 1916, the bill proposing an immediate 25 per cent. reduction and the removal of the remaining duty in 1916.

Raw wool would be free at once, with a corresponding heavy reduction in the tariff on all woolen goods.

To encourage trade with foreign countries the bill would reverse the maximum and minimum provision of the present tariff law. The new tariff rates would be the maximum tariff and the President would be given authority to negotiate reciprocity treaties and make concessions to countries that grant favors to American exports.

While wheat flour is put on the free list, a duty of 10 per cent. is imposed against countries which levy a duty on American flour. This will exclude flour from Canada and many other countries.

All these other articles are put on the free list, namely:

Meats, bread, boots and shoes, lumber, coal, harness, saddlery, iron ore, milk and cream, potatoes, salt, swine, corn, corn meal, cotton bagging, agricultural implements, leather, wood pulp, Bibles, printing paper not worth more than 2 1/2 cents per pound, typewriters, sewing machines, typesetting machines, cash registers, steel rails, fence wire, cotton ties, nails, hoop and band iron, fish, sulphur, soda, tanning materials, acetic and sulphuric acids, borax, lumber products, including broom handles, clapboards, hubs for wheels, posts, laths, pickets, staves and shingles.

These principal items are taken from the free list and taxed: Rough and uncut diamonds and precious stones, furs, coal tar products, 10 per cent.; volatile oils, 20 per cent.; spices from 1 cent to 2 cents a pound.

Chairman Underwood of the Ways and Means Committee, in his statement accompanying the new tariff bill, gave the following comparative table to show reductions in tariff duties made upon necessities. In each item both the present tariff and the proposed tariff had been reduced to an ad valorem basis.

Doctors Use This for Eczema

Dr. Evans, Ex-Commissioner of Health, says: "There is almost no relation between skin diseases and the blood." The skin must be cured through the skin. The germs must be washed out, and so salves have long and been found worthless. The most advanced physicians of this country are now agreed on this, and are prescribing a wash of wintergreen, thymol and other ingredients for eczema and all other skin diseases. This compound is known as D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema.

Dr. Holmes, the well known skin specialist writes: "I am convinced that the D.D.D. Prescription is as much a specific for eczema as quinine for malaria. I have been prescribing the D.D.D. remedy for years." It will take away the itch the instant you apply it.
In fact, we are so sure of what D.D.D. will do for you that we will be glad to let you have a $1 bottle on our guarantee that it will cost you nothing unless you find that it does the work.

Lost in Dayton Flood.

So far as known only one person was drowned in the floods of Ohio related to any one in this county, and a letter came last week giving the details of this drowning.

Mrs. T. C. Noel of Centennial, this county received a letter from her cousin, Mrs. Josephine O'Neil Hines, of Dayton, Ohio, under date of April 10th, containing a brief account of the drowning of her sister, Mrs. Martha O'Neil Pulver, while both were struggling in the raging waters. These ladies, widows, were daughters of the late James O'Neil, well known in Lincoln and vicinity, some years ago, as a traveling salesman of a harvester company, and a relative of the O'Neils of Mt. Rock and vicinity. They resided together in a house that was swept away by the flood.

The letter follows:—

Dear Cousin:—I will try to write a few lines, but my heart is broken, when I tell you that all I lived for is gone. Sister Martha was drowned. I had to see her trying to hold to the roof and three times her hands slipped. I cannot tell you very much about it. I was saved and she is gone. We were in the water on the piano; it turned with us and then we were thrown into the water. I was taken to the next house. Her body caught in a wire and hung from Tuesday until Thursday. I was taken to the Relief and a friend ordered her body to the undertaker on the way across from the Relief, and I supposed that it would be all right. She was buried last Monday from St. Mary's church; her pastor said Mass. She prayed all the time we were in the water, almost frozen. You may know how terrible it was. There is nothing but two chairs left in the house, books, beds, all are gone. The doctor forbids me to go out now, but thank God, I kept up until she was laid to rest. I do not know what I write. I am shaking like a leaf.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Witters of New Chester, and seven brothers, George and Archie of Waynesboro; Daniel of York; Richard of Littlestown; John, Joseph and Ivan of New Chester.

MRS. EMMA V. SMALL, widow of Wm. Small died at Edgegrove on April 13, aged 58 years, 1 day. She suffered a paralytic stroke while attending a sale in Hanover the same day. Special Town Council Meeting.

The Town Council at a special meeting last Friday evening instructed the Highway Committee to inquire into cost of treating streets with tarvia or other oil preparation and what assistance property owners would give to place material on street. Success on the first square will likely be followed upon other squares.

May 8th was designated as Town House cleaning day, all citizens being requested to clean up yards and place rubbish in alleys and borough teams will haul the stuff away.

The Gasland Water companies were ordered to remove pipes under the liner on Carlisle St., where rails, tin cans and debris collected causing the overflow at that point.

The tax duplicate was ordered to be turned over to Tax Collector Buntz.

For Spring Humors

And tired feelings I heartily recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I have used in my family for years and think a very fine medicine. I had salt rheum badly on my face, and humors that seemed to come from or be developed by vaccination. I knew my blood must be in very poor condition. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and I took a few bottles. The humor entirely disappeared, and I have had no trouble from it since. I cordially recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to my friends and neighbors and to the general public." Mrs. Bertram

YEAR BOOK of Stark Bro's Nurseries & Orchards Co. MAILED TO YOU FREE

Just say on a Postal Card: "Send me a copy of Stark Year Book for 1913." When writing, also tell us how many trees, shrubs, vines, etc., you will probably plant this season.

This Year Book is more than a mere catalogue of Stark nursery products, it is a practical, easy to understand text book for the guidance of the man who plants trees. Our own experience of nearly 100 years, the reports of experiment stations and the opinions of planters from all sections are condensed and reproduced for the benefit of busy people. An encyclopedia of orchard information, containing full size color illustrations of gloriously tinted fruits and many photographic reproductions in black and white; also information on many subjects in which the orchardist is interested.

Hundreds of varieties of apples, pears, peach, plum, cherry, apricot, quince, grape and all small fruits are described; weaknesses of each variety are pointed out and good points are explained. We feel that planters should know both.

Those interested in growing fruits or flowers or shrubs or shade trees will find this book of inestimable value; totally different from the average nurseryman's publications. It is a book you will keep for reference, and one on which you can depend as being absolutely accurate. Write today for your copy.

"Your Telephone Call Saved the Mare"

"Brown's roan, one of his big prize team, took a bad turn just as he was about to open up the three-acre lot for early planting. Jones called Doctor Forbes, found that he was on his way to Colbrook, telephoned Haskell's and caught him just as he passed their place. The doctor cut across through Aikens Lane and arrived in good time to save the mare."

The doctor and the veterinarian are essential to the farmer. But for every farm to have a telephone, the ready means for reaching them, is just as important.

A farmer without a telephone takes a long chance. Write the nearest Bell Business Office for details or descriptive booklet.

How Gold Pens Are Made.

Metallic Iridium, used so extensively for the points of gold pens, is made from the powder obtained in the wet way from platinum ore by heating to a high heat in a sand crucible and then adding stick phosphorus. The Iridium, which cannot be melted alone, is thus fused in the form of an Iridium phosphide. To remove the phosphorus the phosphide is heated with lime, and the Iridium is left in the form of a hard white mass. It is now so hard that it cannot be filed or cut and is broken up into small pieces for soldering to the points of gold pens. These small pieces are ground to the right size on a copper disk wheel with emery or carborundum. It is said that an ounce of Iridium will make from 5,000 to 10,000 pen points. It has also been found that the Iridium thus prepared is practically as hard as the ruby. No steel tools can make any impression upon it. At one time much less expensive than platinum, Iridium now is worth more on account of the demand for hard platinum, in which the Iridium is the hardening agent.—New York Press.

Furniture Casters.

Many furniture casters are made of leather, disks of the required size being cut out and cemented and compressed to form the wheel. The wheel is then put into a lathe and turned rounding on its face. Disks of metal are clamped on each side of the wheel to serve as bearings for the axle that runs through the wheel. Such casters are made for use on hardwood floors. Casters of compressed felt are also designed for this purpose. Among other styles of casters may be mentioned those of glass, designed to serve for purposes of insulation, and ball bearing casters, one style showing no wheel, but in stead a ball which, when the furniture is moved, revolves on a circle of small or balls within the caster fitting. Then, too, there are caster wheels made of porcelain and of rubber, of lignum vitae and other hard woods. Great numbers of casters are of iron and brass.—Exchange.

Corrected in Rime.

Thackeray was much pestered by the autograph hunter, says Hodder in his "Recollections." He disliked above all things to write in an autograph album and often refused those who asked him to do so, sometimes rather brusquely. On one occasion the owner of an album, a young lady, was fortunate Thackeray took her book to his room in order to look it over. Written on a page he found these lines:

Mount Blanc is the monarch of mountains
They crowned him long ago,
But who they got to put it on
Nobody seems to know.

ALBERT SMITH.

Under these lines Mr. Thackeray wrote:

A HUMBLE SUGGESTION.
I know that Albert wrote to hurry—
To criticize I scarce presume—
But yet methinks that Lindley Murray
Instead of "who" had written "whom."
W. M. THACKERAY.

Expanding the Inspiration.

"Isn't inspiration a queer thing?"
"I suppose so. What about it?"
"Why, a few weeks ago I had a red 'bot squabble with my wife over a dressmaker's bill, and when I came down to the office I was mad enough to chew spikes. Then I sat down at my desk and wrote a little poem on 'Beh, the Erring Brother With a Single Kindly Word.' And, say, those verses, born in bitterness and nourished by anger have been copied in the leading newspapers all over the country. How's that?"

"Fine. Why don't you improve on the idea?"
"How?"
"Why, get mad enough to beat up your wife, set fire to the house, shoot a policeman and then write an epic that will go thundering down the ages."
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Parnell's Apology.

Mr. Parnell, on April 16, 1878, characterized a statement made by Henry James as "a legal quibble" worthy of the honorable and learned member from whom it proceeded.

"I must inform the honorable member," said the speaker, "that an expression of that kind is unwarrantable and must be withdrawn."

Mr. Parnell apologized for having used the expression. "I will say," he added, "that the statement was more worthy of the ingenuity of a petty sessions attorney than of a lawyer of the ability of the honorable and learned gentleman."

Disconcerting.

"What does this nation need?" shouted the impassioned orator. "What does this nation require, if she steps proudly across the Pacific, if she strides boldly across the Pacific, if she strides boldly across the mighty ocean in her march of trade and freedom? I repeat, what does she need?"

"Tubber boots," suggested the cross Jew materialistic person in a rear seat.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Kicker.

"I have just discovered why it is customary to haste a turkey," said the man who thinks the world is against him.

"To improve the flavor, of course."
"No. It's to make it as slippery as possible when I come to carve it."
—Washington Star.

Hospitable.

"Well, did New York appeal to you?"
"Yes. It was 'welcome' when I came and 'well done' when I went."
—Cornell Widow.

We cannot have more for than we give—nor more pain. The eternal balance swings true.

Is Lake Royer Safe?

The Baltimore news-papers state that during the recent high waters there were 100,000,000 gallons of water stored in Lake Royer on the mountain near Pen Mar, and that a large force of workmen were on hand to prevent it breaking its banks.

Attention has been called to this lake. It is an immense amount of water to be stored on the mountains, far more than the reservoirs contained that broke and did such great damage at Johnstown and Ohio. Lying at the foot of the mountain, directly in the path of stream that empties from Lake Royer, is the village of Rouzeville and Waynesboro but three miles distant. Are conditions any more secure with Lake Royer than they were with the reservoirs that broke in Ohio? Is this case not worth looking into?
